Patrick -

Thanks for following up. I just got off the call with our discovery vendor who anticipates completion of the production by the end of this week.

Enlisted Design's services to BlendTec are ongoing.

Thanks,
Ben

Hi Ben,

Checking in on the status of your production. Please provide us with an update regarding the timing of Enlisted's production, as well as with an answer regarding the status of Enlisted's provision of services to Blendtec.

Sincerely,

Patrick

Ben,

Thank you again for your time today, and for confirming that Enlisted will be complying with the subpoena and producing documentation responsive to each request.

Please keep us updated with respect to the timing of Enlisted's productions, and whether we need to discuss any details related to Enlisted's engagement of a discovery vendor to assist with its production. Please also confirm whether Enlisted's provision of services to Blendtec is ongoing, or has concluded.

Sincerely,

Patrick

Ben,

Please see the attached Order by Judge Pead, issued last Friday (March 3), denying Blendtec's motion to quash the subpoena to Enlisted Ventures. To the extent you have time, it will be helpful if you can review this Order prior to our conversation. Please let us know when you are available to discuss Enlisted's compliance with the subpoena, and Judge Pead's Order.

Sincerely,

Patrick

Dear Ben,

I hope all is well since we last spoke (since which time I have transitioned my practice to a new entity, McGill & Co., P.C.).

Blendtec recently took the position that its pending motion to quash the subpoena served on Enlisted Ventures is “not ripe for adjudication,” in light of Enlisted Ventures’ objections to the subpoena. (See Dkt. 73, Blendtec, Inc. v. BlendJet Inc., Case No. 2:21-cv-00668-TC-DBP (D. Utah), at 1-2, attached for reference). As we had discussed on our call, Enlisted Ventures’ objections to the subpoena were untimely under Fed. R. Civ. P. 45(d)(2)(B). To the extent you believe the untimely service of Enlisted Ventures’ objections can or should be excused, please provide us with the basis for that contention.

Please let us know if you are available this week, or early next week, to meet and confer regarding Enlisted Ventures’ objections to the subpoena. If Enlisted Ventures is unwilling to produce responsive documents in response to the subpoena and/or unwilling to meet and confer this or early next week, BlendJet will seek an order from the Court compelling its compliance.

Finally, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(e), we request that Enlisted Ventures produce any additional materials in its possession, custody, or control that are responsive to Request No. 10 (to which Enlisted Ventures has not objected). I have attached the operative protective order in the underlying matter.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Patrick

Hi Patrick -

Thanks again for the time today. After discussion with the Enlisted team, the only responsive document to Request 10 is the attached email thread.

Dear Mr. Craven,

Thank you for providing us with Enlisted Venture's initial response to our subpoena. To the extent that Enlisted Venture is represented by outside legal counsel in connection with this matter, please let us know so that we may include that counsel on our correspondence (or direct future correspondence related to the subpoena to Enlisted Venture's counsel).

We would like to schedule a time next week to meet and confer regarding Enlisted Venture's present response to our subpoena and the scope of our requests (including regarding the relevance of our requests to the Blendtec litigation). Would you be available this coming Monday, Dec. 12, sometime between 9am-2pm PT? We can likewise be available this coming Wednesday (Dec. 14) or Thursday (Dec. 15) during the same time windows.

We look forward to speaking, and appreciate Enlisted Venture's ongoing cooperation with this process.

Sincerely,
Patrick
